Rare and precious object

The new Pergamo mirror is named after Parchment, the name of animal skin prepared to be written on. Used by ancient people to record important data, parchment is today a historical treasure. Bessa recreated an old and deteriorated parchment in a sculptural piece of art and design to recover the history of such remarkable material.

Modern signature

The new Mezzo Collection's Lester sideboard draws inspiration from the vintage classics yet interpreted with a modern vision. The four drawers feature a simple design, where the handles shine, while the main structure brings back the mid-century through its attractive lines.
